

GOSPEL REFLECTION

The Samaritan's thanksgiving and prostration at Jesus' feet; his recognition that God is at work when Jesus notices and heals hurts and brokenness that are not noticed by others; his understanding that to thank Jesus is to glorify God: this is the manifestation of faith that makes well, as the NRSV puts it here. And this seems to come easiest to the people who have received most from Jesus, the ones who are otherwise ignored, scorned, untouched. As Jesus observes in the case of the anointing woman (7:47), the one who has been given much also loves greatly. Love that springs from gratitude is the essence of faith. (Meda Stamper)

MEDITAZIONE SPIRITUALE

Uno dei dieci si vede guarito, torna indietro, loda Dio, si prostra, ringrazia. Tutte queste azioni sono conseguenza della consapevolezza che qualcosa è accaduto. Torna sui suoi passi, quelli fatti da malato, i passi che il desiderio ha sostenuto, i passi interrotti dalla paura, i passi dell'obbedienza: tornare indietro non è sempre sintomo di un regresso, se ci pensi chi prende la rincorsa torna indietro per raccogliere energie e dare vigore alla sua corsa. Nel cammino della vita spesso è necessario tornare indietro, non per piangere sul latte versato, non per ricordare i bei tempi andati, ma per fare memoria, cioè vivere nella fede e in compagnia di Dio anche quei luoghi, quei giorni in cui Dio non c'era, in cui io non ero con Lui.

COLLETTA SETTIMANALE
